

FLEETWOOD PARK.

The American Girl—W. H. Allen Match—The Daring Heat Trotted at Last—American Girl the Winner—Dreadnaught Beats Topsey.

Three trotting events were announced to take place at Fleetwood Park yesterday afternoon, the first being the deciding heat in the American Girl—William H. Allen match, postponed from day to day since Monday last; the second a match of $500, mile and repeat, between Alexander Patterson's chestnut gelding Dreadnaught, to wagon, and Benjamin Daniels' bay mare Topsey, in harness, and the third a sweepstakes of $300, mile heats, best three in five, in harness, for which were entered Moses Whipple's sorrel mare Fox, Dr. Cook's bay mare Scotland Maid and C. Taylor's sorrel gelding Felix. The first and second of these events came off according to programme, but the third was postponed, it being given out that the gelding Felix had not arrived at the track. It will be remembered that the mares Fox and Scotland Maid trotted the other day at White Plains, to wind up the season in that vicinity, and the fact still being well impressed on the minds of the sporting community the non-appearance of them and their companion Felix was not seriously felt.

It seemed to be a foregone conclusion in the minds of the two hundred spectators present that American Girl would beat the stallion Allen, the heat required to decide their race, as they argued the rest she had obtained during the weeks and the work required to fit her at the start had put her in admirable condition. Such was evidently the case, as she won the heat in 22 1/4, quite remarkable time, considering all the circumstances, of the weight she carried, the track and the lateness of the season. Notwithstanding the repeated postponements of the heat which would decide this race, the judges announced that all bets must go with the standard.

Patterson's Dreadnaught had but little difficulty in beating Topsey. This result was anticipated.

Fifth heat..... 34 1:09 2:24

FIFTH HEAT.—Allen had the pole. The betting was $50 to $12 in favor of American Girl. Seven attempts were made before they got away, when the send-off was quite even, the contestants being head and head as the word was given. On the turn American Girl went to the outside, lengthened, and at the quarter pole, in thirty-four seconds, increased her advantage to a length and a half. Down the backstretch Daniels put on a little more steam, and at the half-mile in 1:09, was two lengths ahead of his rival. At the finish Peter Mance endeavored to force the stallion, and after responded nobly to the call, the mare drew away from him at will and entering the stretch was three lengths in advance. The stallion was in a position to make a stand, but, as he had the lead, he was well satisfied with his exhibition of speed, and when Mance his driver, saw the turn on him, he said to himself, "I knew it was fast!" The jockeys in their decision of the heat and race proclaimed that "all bets go with the purse," meaning with the stake.

TIME. Quarter. H.M. Miles.

Fourth heat..... 36 1/2 1:10 2:25

Fifth heat..... 34 1:09 2:24

FIFTH HEAT.—Allen had the pole. He was the favorite, selling at $50 for Topsy's $73. They got off an even send-off on the second attempt, and on the third, when Topsy had assumed command, being four lengths ahead at the quarter, in thirty-eight and a half seconds. The same positions were maintained at the half-mile in 1:09, and at the finish, but in the straight work Daniels succeeded in rallying his mare, and she made an effort to catch the gelding, but it was useless, as he jogged under the stirrup winner of the heat in three lengths. Time, 23 3/4.

SECOND HEAT.—The word was not the favorite five to one. The words were good to go, but good to go, good start, but on the turn Dreadnaught had gone to the front one length, but on the turn ready, and at the quarter pole, he sighted second, one length. Down the backstretch the white-faced gelding had become settled, and, being forced, was soon on even terms with his competitor, and again going in front, the mare won in the half-mile, one length to the finish, in 1:09. In the uphill work on the back part of the course Topsy broke, and before she could be rallied Dreadnaught showed in advance once more, and though he had still another skip entering the home-stretch, came home an easy winner of the heat and race by three lengths. Time, 23 3/4.

A SINGULAR CASE OF HYDROPHOBIA.

Poisoned by a Dog Licking His Lips.

A somewhat remarkable case of hydrophobia was yesterday brought to the attention of Coroner Schirmer.

Mr. Frederick W. Beeson, late of No. 104 Waverley place, owned a perfect dog, and about three weeks ago, while playing with him, the brute licked his master's lips. The same night the dog exhibited symptoms of being rabid, and continued to grow worse, was bitten with poison three days subsequently. Two weeks ago Mr. Beeson composed of great pain in his head, had great terror of water, and was unable to drink. Dr. George of Beecher street, was called to see Mr. Beeson a week ago, and learning a history of the case, administered the proper antitoxines without success, as directed by Dr. Frazee. The jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the foregoing facts. Deceased was forty-one years of age and a native of England.
